

THE MACALLAN MANOR HOUSE

The Macallan was founded in 1824 by Alexander Reid on a plateau above the river Spey in north-east Scotland.

For every expression of The Macallan, the quality of the whisky is largely dependent on the quality of the oak casks it is matured in, as well as the quality of the “new make” spirit distilled from water, yeast and barley.

The reputation of The Macallan is built on a product of outstanding quality and distinctive character.

Extraordinary raw materials combined with traditional methods and craftsmanship are the backdrop to The Macallan’s unique spirit.
